

Mr. Nam?

Ah, hello ...

I heard what happened.
I am so sorry.

It's okay ...

If you'd like, I am willing to set up a meeting to ...

No, me I am.
I realize it was my fault.

If you haven't given up,
I am willing to help you.

No! That was enough.

After talking to the student council president, I came to a conclusion.

Does he mean Ji Na-Young?

If I truly love her...

I should not force my feeling for her...

For her happiness,
I shall simply watch
from a distance.

What?
Hey ...

Good bye now.

Wait!

...?

He must have meant Ji Na-Young.

What did she tell him?

She places me off more than Han Hye-Ri does.

But I didn't run into her last year because she was busy with the student council, so I didn't pay attention to her.

But, after Cha Jin-Suk came,
I keep running into her...

At that time, they were...

I was joking.
It's something important.

I need to give you
this first ...

What's going on between them?

Cha Jin-Suk should have nothing to do with the council.

I kinda don't want to see him again.

Is he going to go
weird on him again?
